A photograph of a modern house at night. The house has a long, low profile with large glass windows and doors. The interior lights are on, and the exterior is lit with warm, ambient lighting. A swimming pool is in the foreground, reflecting the lights from the house. The pool is surrounded by a concrete deck and a lawn. The sky is dark blue, suggesting dusk or night.

El Ombú posee una circulación de pasillos en todos sus ambientes interiores que permite el ingreso de luz natural, interactuando con los materiales utilizados en la arquitectura.
